I've got my dreams worked out, there's nothing more I would do to change you now Dancing in the rain, I wonder if I'd ever see you like this again
Tonight you are perfect

And you may just be, the missing piece, of a puzzle
that I can't complete
Tonight you are perfect

And it frustrates me, I can never get you close enough to be close enough to me No I won't leave you wondering, if the words I say I mean, well I do, I do, I do Tonight you are perfect

And you may just be, the missing piece, of a puzzle
that I can't complete
Tonight you are perfect

It's so extraordinary, how you must have read my mind
I saw your face already, and pictured it a million times
I just wanted you to know, you're better in real life

I've got my dreams worked out, there's nothing more I
would do to change, you now
Tonight you are perfect

And you may just be, the missing piece, of a puzzle
that I can't complete Tonight you are perfect, to me
