I'm falling down but no one seems to hear me scream and I cannot find a way to turn back time and feel alright

It's crashing like a downfall filling all my mind It won't reveal to me the meaning of my life

Shake me at the end of the day the demons cling to my knees and I'm holding to my sheets but they won't leave me 'till I fade away tonight a tear will cross my face and wipe the ashes of my past

I'll show you how to be when fear is living in your skin emotions are like raindrops everyday they fall upon your sins I cannot hear the beating heart that's in my chest I should remember everything I can't forget but I can't believe that I won't react the worst part of this is that you can't

I'm holding it down, my feet on the ground,
I just wanna tell you that ... I feel blessed I know that I wan't forget
