Oh no, I'd never thought that I could find you home alone so tell me all your secrets 'cause I won't be saved
I know that there are things that you don't want to say but babe I won't stay here forever

Tell me if you think that you got everything you need that all the lies you're used to hide will make you swear another night but I don't wanna be like you there'e nothing left to believe and I don't wanna learn from you the way you're keeping your secrets

There's no way out I can't resist here with the pressure inside me you're hangin' on but it's your tongue that makes you look like you're lying it's cold this night I can't see the fire where we burned inside so say goodbye
'cause babe I'm leaving you forever

What are you waiting for?
I'm staving at the door so would you say goodbye?
'cause babe I'm leaving you forever
