Lay down
like supernovas we're fading out this darkness is blinding the sky above can seem so close it looks like everything has gone did we get what we wanted?

Save me save me
now that these blinding lights are fading out we're burning emotions
there's no way back from what we've done before we're buring emotions

Breathe out like fallen angels we're climbing clouds we don't have to look down the sky above it's just too close to make look everything undone so let us get what we wanted

My eyes can't believe that you're here to save me to save my emotions
