You know as well as I I've got your back
You've seen the way I operate without your help
You know as well as I I'm built to last
You know that I disintegrate too fast

The less you say the more I feel you, love

'Cause I believe in everything
I guess 'cause it's the only thing I know
If you believed in anything
Then you could leave the little things to me

You know as well as I I'm failing fast
I might light up but I go out like cigarettes

The more you say the more I feel we're young

Don't you wish your heart were only cold
Now honey we were never in control
So you think we're better off alone
But honey we were never on our own

Who knows as well as I we wrecked the past
It's not the crash I think about when I look back
Who knows as well as I you have your doubts
Just try and turn the wheel, my dear, or let me out
