(Intro)

Yea

Just let that run again

Feels too good man

This is going out

To all the real people in my life

(Verse)

My pa's been working at the same museum

For the last 30 years, now they say they don't need him

He took it in stry I, but it was new to me

Things ending bring new opportunity

My mom's been singing for a living, playing instruments

Since she was riddling she still gets into it

My sisters working in pasta, living and paying rent

Went to college in the states and now she majors in Philosophy, she'll probly be a professor

She always was good at expressin herself when it came to lessons

And me, well you probably can guess

My family need me more than ever so I'm tryina get a check

All they can do is support me, they there struggling for me

Before I was born, so now I'm here performin and tourin

And yall get frantic and panic, ain't know my story

So you gotta speak when I go so yall can explain it for me

Uh, man everything is for a reason

That's why I don't stress it ever, whenever it change seasons

My fans' passion, it tells me to chase dreams

But can barely seem to find these qualities in the human being

All I'm saying is I need dome dedication

I ain't talking getting high, speaking how were gonna make it

I'm talking bout a team who wants it more than I

To who invested time and money, can't believe they're making my moves

I mean you can say you doing, be lying to me
I really be on your grind, then start dyin for me Cuz I'd die for anyone of my people
Just know that I got your back, we're here to defeat evil
I got my hit hip-hop fan, my fans, my girl
And Mr. Hodgins, it's honestly all I have It honestly makes me glad just to see em all succeed in it Gives me a reason to live and break even Livin to make profit or livin to shake demons
I just hope you're all happy and I say it cuz I mean it
I hope you're making it happen
Cuz if you dream it you can be it
And if I inspire you then we're even Uh, you motivate me every day
And I only say we're even cuz I love you all the same
You keep blood pumpin in my veins
So before you make assumptions I'mma say

(Chorus)

I do it for you, I do it for us
I do it til the sunshine opens me up Yea I got friends but there's few that I trust
So I continue to do it for love
My family's everything I am
So I'm doing it for them
There's a few that got my back
That I truly call my friends

(Outro)
