[Hook]

Riding, on my own,
Baby, I've been missing home
But everywhere I go
I know it's gonna pay off
I've been on a the road, another flight, and a take off
Let me take you, to a place you've never seen
In your dreams

They tell me I'll, never get that dough
Never touch that paper,
Tell them bra, gotta catch this flight
So I'll see you later man, that's life
When you do it it's right,
When you do as long, you see that light
You shine it on, what you driving on
So you see clear into that rear view mirror
When you're staring on that fast lane, destination
I don't hear ya,
Don't mean nobody harm, but I can't control your emotions
If you don't like me, you don't like me
It's life as we know it, until them I'm

Let me take you, to a place you've never seen
In your dreams

They tell me never doubted me for a second
But how do I trust you if you never playing my record
Soon as I get up to leave the room, you disrespected
If you say you my brother, you my brother
Yeah gave you my breakfast
Give you my bed, give you my shelter
I split whatever I'm getting cause I'm loyal and I'm faithful

All this time that we done spent here
Try to strive for something better
That's all my life realty here
That's all that I need to know
I'ma say that to my kids
If it's anything I've learned, man it's get it how you live
Don't worry bout that hustle, cause you take what you can get
Man don't sweat it, I used to live in my head,
I'll admit it, that I still do
And I love it, till my reality sets in I've lived uncomfortable, to the point that it's comfortable
In the cut like... rock side, on my shit like a bumper do
Live for circle wouldn't say I love the pain
But love the feeling when the weight on my shoulders go away
When I'm

I've on the road, tryina find myself
But I get the same answer, like I've always been told
Try to find yourself, and write a new chapter
But I'm just tell them I'm
