What's all this about a switch-up?
You're gonna instigate a change in heart
It's not a case of a real quick fix-up
But it's an intricate essential art

Come back here, you're not done yet
You've done your part, but there's still a threat
So raise your hands and show them who we are.

We're alive x4

I gotta say I've got no idea what we're doing here
I've never been so confused in all of my life
But believe me when I say we're fine
I've seen the future and it's all alright
But raise your hands for the ones we'll leave behind

We're alive x4

Well I need an explanation, or maybe just a clue
For what it is we do here, and if it's anything new
And if there's nothing else left to do
Can we move on and try to find something new
Or are we doomed to stagnate forever?

It could be just a crisis of faith
Or maybe some unfunny mistake
But I get the feeling that we're not quite meant to try
Alright, fine, I'm losing my mind
Cause everything's recycled
Nothing new to find
Forget about the future cause the past's just fine
Well I'm not so sure

We're alive x4

Alright, fine, I'm losing my mind
Cause everything's recycled
Nothing new to find
Forget about the future cause the past's just fine
Well I'm not so sure

We're alive x2
