I don't really want to know if this isn't how it seems.
So give it a chance and see if you know what I mean.

Lights are making plans to cover up.

Turn around and walk away.
I know we can make it through,
Make it back to the town in the sky
We've waited our whole lives,
And now it's time to begin.
Give it away, don't forget we're all safe
And now it's right in the end.

Now I'll hold my mouth to keep from saying what I really think.
All of us spent too much time here listening in.

Lights are making plans to cover up.

Turn around and walk away.
I know we can make it through,
Make it back to the town in the sky
We've waited our whole lives,
And now it's time to begin.

Ladders are lining along,
So what are you so worried about?
Just try and pretend you'll go.
Try to pretend.

Lights are making plans to cover up all of you.

Turn around and walk away.
I know we can make it through,
Make it back to the town in the sky
We've waited our whole lives,
And now it's time to begin
Give it away, don't forget we're all safe
And now it's right in the end.

The town in the sky

We've waited our whole lives,
And now it's time to begin
Give it away, don't forget we're all safe
And now it's right in the end.
