Bitterness inside of me
There's no place to run
Endlessness of this misery
Slowly breaking me down

It's raining and now I'm walking by myself
It's hard to penetrate in your heart I don't have a place

I'm dragging my soul out
From this wreckage that you left
But I can't get out here
You buried me along with all these memories

It's raining and now I'm walking by myself
It's hard to penetrate in your heart I don't have a place

Can you hear me
Cause all this time
I tried to hide this from you
Can't you see look at me
There's nothing left but you

It's raining and now I'm walking by myself
It's hard to penetrate in your heart I don't have a place
