[INTRO]

[RAP]

To the top of the world, they try to end this war, in their head they pretend to see the end - they lie again.

Dream false winter it means - bury your dreams around this, until your heart bleeds on the floor..

[Verse]

You keep claiming that things will change and we'll find our way back home but there's something in your eyes, that maims your world
and it keeps me away from you..

[Rap]

No, you can't afford,
playing and losing is not an option anymore,
as it consists of fragile things - invincible enemies
surrounding your will,
is what you wanted all along.

[Pre-Chorus]

Because the game never changes!
Breaking through the ages!

[x2]

[Chorus]

Crashing words surround them
(trapped in those lies)
Shut your lips by all means for this yesterday.
(alone we travel - walking in the dark)
Place your dreams on the hopes of fallen.

[Verse]

Now the story continues without you maybe the author forgot to assign you - the role you fit and as the universe tends to unfold as it should,
there's nothing left that will remind me of you.

[Rap]

No, you can't afford,
playing and losing is not an option anymore,
as it consists of fragile things - invincible enemies
surrounding your will,
is what you wanted all along.

[Pre-Chorus]

Because the game never changes!
Breaking through the ages!
[x2]

[Chorus]

Crashing words surround them,
(trapped in those lies)
Shut your lips by all means for this yesterday.
(alone we travel - walking in the dark)
Place your dreams on the hopes of fallen.

[Bridge]

Why? Tonight?
The end is nigh!
(. . .)
