The truth that never wants to leave you
The hand that always feeds you
The eye that only ever sees you
The touch that never leaves you

I can't love you any more
I won't stop trying
Who is it owns this place I stand in?
You can't love me any more
But don't stop trying
Who is it owns this place we stand in?

The truth that always wants to find you
The hand that never beats you
The eye that never seems to judge you
The touch that always warms you

The truth that never wants to leave you
The hand that always feeds you
The eye that only ever sees you
The touch that never leaves you

I can't love you any more
I won't stop trying
Who is it owns this place I stand in?
You can't love me any more
But don't stop trying
Who is it owns this place we stand in?
