if what was thought
in my apartment was thought out on the street if what was loved in your living room was loved out on the street if what was said
in my bed was said out on the street then i'm afraid that it would be only you and me so i'll stay where you can see will you do the same for me if what was seen in the movie was seen out on the street if what was read in the book was read out on the street if you had heard what they were saying then martin luther kings then you would already know that everyone can come but that i want to sit by you do you wanna stand by me.
