I know enough to know that I don't know much. But I'm learning how to learn and I'm starting right now. I have hopes and dreams and things I want to be, but it's harder to get there than I previously believed. Nothing will ever be the same and I don't like change at all.

I'm trying my best, we're all trying our best but it's not enough. Nothing's guaranteed, everybody bleeds but it's new to me. Nothing's guaranteed, everybody bleeds but it's new to me.

There was no point after all. Nobody answers when I call. The world's so big and I'm so small.

Nothing will ever be the same... Nothing will ever be the same... Nothing will ever be the same and I don't like change at all.
