"I Miss You All Over"

I hold your picture and it's breaking my heart
Just another lesson I've learned
I should be with you wherever you are
But it's hard to cross a bridge that's been burnt
And if I had the chance to hold you again
I won't ever let you go, 'cause your love's all I know
I miss you all over, now nothing's the same
Every part of my body is calling you name
Now the world is much colder and it doesn't seem right
'Cause I miss you all over, I miss you all over tonight
You used to be here when I would come home
Happy in my arms all the time
Now I can see that I'll always be alone
If I can't have you for the rest of my life
And like the night surrounds the stars above
My wish would come true, if I could just hold you
Nothing there for me without you by my side
So come back to me and dry the tears that I've cried
