loving you could be so easy, loving you could make me
warm

ever since the day i left you i try but i just can't get you out of my mind thought that i could do without you, thought i had to look around but now that i know i need you, i promise that i'll never leave you

won't you please

let me in, let me in your arms again let me give my love to you once more, let me love you let me love you never be the same without you, if i had to say goodbye i have no right to ask you, but if you can won't you try to love me

won't you try to love me, help me i need you so badly, and let me

let me in, let me give my love to you once more

oh 'cause i love you 'cause i love you take me in take me in your arms to stay take me in, and i'll never go away again

let me in, let me give my love to you i'll give my love to you once more, oh 'cause i love you

oh let me in, let me in your arms again

'cause i love you
