What would you do
If someone told you
You were going to die today?
Out of the blue, but you knew it was true,
What would you do that day?
Would you confess your love
To your secret crush?
Call your boss, and tell him off
For when he hurt you so much.
Would you give away everything you have
To somebody in need
Or rob a bank, strike it rich, get everyone down on their knees
Steal a really fast car, head for the freeway,
160 miles an hour and countin
What would you do
If someone told you
You were going to die today?
Out of the blue, but you knew it was true,
What would you do that day?
Would you shut off your phone, spend your last day
alone in peace?
Or would you meet with all your friends, kiss them
goodbye as you leave?
Would you go wild, throw a party, have the time of your life?
Or would you break down and cry?
Would you get a preacher, pray and confess all your sins so you won't go to hell?
What would you do
If someone told you
You were going to die today?
Out of the blue, but you knew it was true,
What would you do that day?
Would it give you the courage
To do everything you were afraid to try?
Would it set you free
To say all the thoughts you've been holdin inside?
Hey, but you're still alive!
ooowaaooo oo
But you're still alive
ohwooaoh

Hey ya ya
Hey hey ya yaa hey
Why would you wait until it's too late?
Some day we're all gonna die.
Just follow your heart
Say what's on your mind
And do what you like
While you're still alive.
While you're still alive.
