Frozen, like winter's chill
What is the reason that makes you cold hearted?
With fake emotion, so full of perplexity
What is convincing your conscience to stay that way?
Choose your target and strike, and do it again.
Now you can't use old keys to open doors with changed locks.

The ones you have played are the ones that will never forget you.
The ones you have played are the ones that will never forget you.

These are the reasons why the seasons all change;
People have more than two faces nowadays,
And they just keep on changing.
And I'll see enough to know that I can heal
Faster than before
But trust me to never forget you.

I had my faith
When you had a cause, you backed down
Can't you see?
I'm trying to prove I've still got your back.
But it's harder the more i try sending the signals
But all i get back is nothing.
There's no warmth anymore, no, nothing.
Spring has sprung, but nothings growing.
I open my senses.

These are the reasons why the seasons all change;
People have more than two faces nowadays,
and they just keep on changing.
These are the reasons why the seasons all change;
People have more than two faces nowadays,
and they just keep on changing.

Listening, I'm listening.
But you dont notice me.
I'm listening.

Listening, I'm listening.

But you dont notice me.
I'm listening.
