Every time i see you i think about our past. Nothing in this world would make me go back.I never thought that i could lose control.....

You told me that you aint me u told me that u like me.You said you'd never leave you'd always stay beside me.I was dumn for ever believing you.....

chorus:u broke my heart and then you went away,once you said i was your everything.I feel like im about to lose control every since u let me go.....

I feel like its the end of life every since you left my side.dont know wat i want dont know what i like.everysince u broke my heart i cant find the right guy.

i know you did me wrong and i cant believe the way you really had to lie 2 me so tell me what u want from me i tried to love you. you tore me down i really love u even though your not around.

chorus:you broke my heart then you went away.once you said i was your eveything.i feel like im about to lose controll every since u let me go.....

you missed out dont come back.i need you where were u at? I gave u trust i gave you love i gave u all the good i can think of chorus:you broke my heart then you went away.once you said i was your everything.i feel im about to lose control evey since i lost you.....

you dont get it but i know you"ll regret it.you left my love behind.you said that you dont need me and then you had to leave me.you must have lost your mind.i dont know i dont care wat your going though....all i know is that i needed you!

chorus:you broke my heat and then you went away.once you said i was your every thing.i feel like im about to lose control.watch your back cause i got you

.....the end
