They came they came without warning
Took me by my hand and we started walking
And their hands and their hands were as cold as ice

They came they came without warning
took me by my heart and we started running
And there hands and their hands would not let me go

Chorus:

All all the ghosts
They wont they won't let me go
And all all I know is that I have to let them go
No!

They came they came without asking

Chorus:

You see all all my ghosts I have to let them go!
