I can't trust my eyes, they are cracked and I can't Trust my head, it is numb
The spell that kept me here wasn't magic Seems I was frozen all along
I can't move my feet, they won't awaken from a year-long
Slumber in the cold
The gleam in your eyes was only there because you were frozen all along

You were, you were frozen all along

I can't feel you now, you are melting but my heart
Cannot warm your lies that fast
I see the road you're taking is icy but I know you
Have the strength to make it past
Cause you are, you are frozen

And your lies tell everything you wanna be when you
Say that you didn't try to kill me
Well, what did you think a frozen lie was gonna do?

I can't say goodbye, my heart's too cold now and I Should just be happy watching you chill
But all I wanna do is run into your arms
But they are frozen still

You are, you are frozen

And your lies tell everything you wanna be when you
Say that you didn't try to kill me
Well, what did you think a frozen lie was gonna do?

We are frozen
