It's times like these when I fall so hard
That I wonder now
How I ever got this far

So many failures fill my mind
And then history
Keeps reminding me of these scars

Whenever the past is showing me
Where I started from
I'll always look back
And see what He's done, oh

I look back to the cross
Back to the One
To the love that held Him there for us

And back to the place
Where I was set free
Where His arms are wide enough for me

And everything I want
For all I'll ever need
I look back to the cross

So when those days that are sure to come
Leave me down and out
I just think about His great love

Whenever the past is showing me
Where I started from
I'll always look back
And see what He's done, oh

And I look back to the cross
Back to the One
To the love that held Him there for us

Back to the place
Where I was set free
Where His arms are wide enough for me

And everything I want
For all I'll ever need
I look back to the cross

That carried all of my pain
And the love
That covered all of my shame
And I can see

When I look back to the cross
Back to the One
Back to the love that held Him there for us

And back to the place
Where I was set free
Where His arms are wide enough for me

And everything I want
For all I'll ever need
