And here I am again
So tired of hurting
When will this ever end?
My mind is blurring

Out the pain that rushes to my head
And so if You're there tonight
Let me know that everything I fear
Is gonna be alright, alright

Calling You but there's no sound
Running but there's no way out, out

When I'm broken You carry all the pieces
On Your shoulders and through all the storms
When these waves are bound to crash
I'll still be holding to You, oh

Why does this seem so wrong?
What am I missing?
And if I can't go on
Can You forgive me?

Calling You but there's no sound
Running but there's no way out, out, out, out

When I'm broken You carry all the pieces
On Your shoulders and through all the storms
When these waves are bound to crash
I'll still be holding to You, oh

And why does it feel that I am so alone?
You are the only one who truly knows
When will this end? When can I let it go?
Without you all I am is broken

I'm broken, hope in You
I'm broken
There is hope in You
I'm broken
There is hope in

When I'm broken You carry all the pieces
On Your shoulders and through all the storms
When these waves are bound to crash
I'll still be holding to You

Broken, there is hope in You
I'm broken
