I've never seen your breath before
But I'm disgusted by the thought of waiting any more
And if I look up in your eyes
Will you open up a little more
I know you know it's all gone wrong
And I don't wanna find
Pain and sleep in front of your mind
But I don't wanna find
That mostly you and mostly me
And all we need is a little bit here
I never been inside before But I'm offended by the thought of being what you know
And as I look into your mind
Will you open up a little bit more
And all you know is wrong
And I don't wanna find
The pain and struggle in your eyes
But I don't wanna find
With mostly you with mostly me and all we need is a little bit here
I never seen your breath before
But I'm disgusted by the thought of
waiting any more
And if I look into your eyes
Will you open up a little bit more
And all you know is wrong
And I don't wanna find
The pain and struggle in your eyes (mind?)
And I don't wanna find
That mostly you and mostly me
And all we need is a little bit here
And I don't wanna find
The pain and struggle in your eyes
And I don't wanna find
When I wont believe is helping you and all and All it's all gone wrong
