

Our Last Night "Caught In The Explosion"

Visit "Caught In The Explosion" on MotoLyrics.com were these words on time is there anything or anyone that should know that you are failing on my time you cant believe that these notions are whats holding me back and these memories have broken down and crashed into the sun and all i could do is recite these lines over and over until these nights have left me and if these stars up in this sky could fall i wouldn't mind if you were caught in the explosion those reds and oranges would be the colors of my celebration

i never thought it'd be the same without you
