standing in a bedroom with champagne and cigarettes talking resolutions, taking sips and placing bets on who would come up short and whoâ€™d come out on top now i see that both are really closer than we thought sometimes weâ€™ve traveled further than we know jonny played the bottle and i would sing out loud spinning fast and falling finding residence in the ground this will have its ending no matter how hard we resist this will have its ending no matter how hard we insist sometimes weâ€™ve traveled high to see the what lay below sometimes weâ€™ve traveled further than we know
