In this big panorama of lies, which we came to call life
I'm rubbing everything to find, to find that genie inside (inside)

A state of not caring for my thoughtless wrongdoings Cause I know by the end of the day there's no punishment divine

Reckless, you walked right into my crosshair (I walked right into)

Careless I inscribed my name on your heartstone (You inscribed your name)

Loveless I already know my exits

And relentless I enjoyed every second of it...

The sky is the limit and I'm afraid it's falling down

[Chorus]

Don't you dare to read my mind

Because you don't like, won't like what you'll find

And the more that you resist me

The greater the damage will be

Along came another bright eyed demon

My last stand was always, always versus her

Breaking my armor just to reach the patchwork of my heart

Not caring what she wished for cause in the end she wanted it all

What you see is never what you get and we both know

The sky is the limit and I'm afraid it's falling down

[Chorus]

[Solo]

Through the ashes I spread my wings again

Why am I cheating death when it's life that's the enemy?

I bite the bullet and get right up on my feet again.

[Chorus]

I spread my wings

My wings again
Why am I cheating death
When it is life that's the enemy?
