apologies are worthless and i've heard it all before the same old story it's such a bore you won't get the best of me anymore i remembered every word and every dirty look and i'll never forget the cheap shots you took walked on me, pushed me aside covered it up with a bunch of lies it's hard to cope but i'll be okay who wants to be miserable anyway? fuck all of you, you were never there when i needed your help you didn't care you didn't fucking care
