No filter, no quality control. art's being raped and you're playing the role. but the ship is sailing to the eye of the storm (and the first to go are the misinformed). the flood water's rising, the levees are breaking. the exits are sealed and no one's escaping. dumb it down, dull and plain. no benefits without monetary gain.

The lasting value - it's paper thin, but like sheep, the masses they all buy in.

No it don't matter that it's all been done, when it's feeding an ego that blocks the sun. the new trend's in town, hop on board. buy into ideals that you can't afford.

The flood water's rising, the levees are breaking. the exits are sealed and no one's escaping. the flood water's rising, the levees are breaking. the exits are sealed and no one's escaping. the moment you feared (on the verge of collapse).

Out goes the markets over-saturated trash. that pedestal you built up from the ground, I've got the match and I'm going to burn it down. burn it down, burn it fucking down.
