It's just not my day.
I only have wrong things to do and wrong things to say.
Don't bother asking if I'm okay, I know you never really cared anyway.
And why'd I expect anything better?
You don't seem to realize that to me it's all meaningless whether or not you agree.
Don't pass your judgments on me; I used to think better of you.
I'm drowning in problems, you're pulling me under.

Like I need this.
I need this like a fucking nightmare.
Patience wearing thin, time taken to consider this.
Everything that's yours is not theirs.
And theirs isn't anywhere.
What a way to portray what you think and say.

Get off my back.
Stop wasting my time with your opinions.
So demanding, your lack of understanding expanding every day.
It's what I don't say, you take it the wrong way,
you just don't know me.

Like I need this.
I need this like a fucking nightmare.
Patience wearing thin, time taken to consider this.
Everything that's yours is not theirs.
And theirs isn't anywhere.
What a way to portray what you think and say.
