I don't deny a-what I'm seein'
You villify all our kind
You criticize of people's weakness
When all the time, it's just your lies

And I never feel the worse
I will be there, just say the word

I hide your eyes and turn away now
I roll on by without a word
I read the signs, it's hard to see how
You'll have it all if you want your soul
Just wait for night, you're goin' nowhere
You're out of line, you know it ain't right

And I never feel the worse
I will be there, just say the word
Well, it took you knock on my soul
Could it be a good time to let go?

You're no match for the bigger man
If you busted them, they just cover it up
You're no match for what's happenin'
Step by step, you can feel it

You're no match for all that you see
Everywhere, tantalizing
But no matter what they say
You can make it all right
You can do it alone now
Do it your way, yeah
