you stole my heart like a thief in the night stopped in your tracks in the middle of a fight to make it right let the brimstones burn i'll letchu live yours, now let me have my turn butchu wrong thinking you could stop time a few hours ahead baby girl not mine i look ahead i know you see the stop signs blind men know, it's not agreeing on time you drive me insane mrs. rain cloud moving on the road, took the same vow now i'm tryna u-turn on the way out the fire all around us is played out standing on all fours on the bed they say some things is better not said ill horns on your head
i betchu'd rather stick horns on your head

if you think you're special, you're probably not why even try (why even try) just living a lie (living a lie) never been like that (never been like that) why even try why even try to change okay okay mrs rain cloud make the sun shine til the days out you're not alone, call my name out but what if, there's no way out and look, the words are an article reception is bad when i'm calling you confusion, and it's the thought of you you're no spy, i'm onto you this letter was written in bitter form so read carefully, don't get it wrong see thats us, but thats gone the scarecrows, on the back lawn thats another dress, well put that on i keep it real, is that wrong?

i betchu'd rather stiff horns on your head

making little sunshine til the days out making your sunshine til your calling my name out what if there's not a simple way out reception is bad and you're calling me now never been like that

break

if you think you're special, you're probably not
