Take the world but give me God's love
'Cause I'll find rest when I'm dead
'Cause He's the sweetest song that I have ever heard
It plays loud inside my head

I long for You just like the ocean breeze
'Cause You're the wind that fills my sails
My senses are numbed by the autumn scene
Like the leaves that paint the ground

You are holy
You are holy

Whoa, my eyes are on the sky
Whoa, arms opened wide
Whoa, rain on me tonight
'Cause You are holy

I long for you just like a precious stone
'Cause You're the jewel that captures me
And who could have loved with a love so bold
To give His son up to die for me

Whoa, my eyes are on the sky
Whoa, arms opened wide
Whoa, rain on me tonight
'Cause You are holy

I'm just dry and brittle
Looking for the rain
So open up the heavens and revive me again

Whoa, my eyes are on the sky
Whoa, arms opened wide
Whoa, rain on me tonight
'Cause You are holy
