[Intro}

Throw me in the landfill
Don't think about the consequences
Throw me in the dirt pit
Don't think about the choices that you've made

[Verse 1]

She lives in a household that's guarded by her guardians
Parental figures that never had any heart in them Physically scar her then discard her when they're arguing
She believes that death, is someone to bargain with

Tarnish the stress and at best, just harness it
In part with the mess, she partially hopes
She partially copes, but partially knows
It's hard to progress with missing parts in a whole

Like the cause of it all, was it fault of her own?
Could she really solve it, and alter the home?
Is it worth trying or has all of it grown out of control
Down in her soul she's found that it's cold out here alone

So maybe she'll leave, in sight of her absence Maybe they'll think and come to light of their madness
But probably won't, so she'll probably go Runaway forever hoping things get better

[Chorus]

So I tell her evade
I tell her evade
And I'll take you away
I'll take you away

[Verse 2]

Todays youth looks at superficial glamour
As the answer to beauty, not knowing it's the cancer
How its handled profusely and used within the manner

Of verbally abusing girls for not meeting the standards

Look in the mirror and fantasize slimmer waste, go and take

Razor blades to cut out the fat and slit for the pain

Release endorphins to endure what has purely become A sure hatred for yourself, there's no more you can take

She's been lured in the game of society, fuck sobriety

See why we keep getting high and pouring the drunk
Even though she's alluring, she's leaning towards what I think...

Click clack, BANG

Goes straight in her brain, her parents run to her room
She lies dead on the floor, and they're somewhat confused

They read the note on her desk, through the blood from her head

And realize the cause, it was them

[Chorus]

She told herself to evade

Told herself to evade

And let God take her away

Let God take her away

[Outro]

Moment of silence

For the fallen

Let our hate disintegrate for just a second

So we can see clearly through the mist of society

All the anguish and pain these kids go through

With no one to go to

We find comfort in alcohol and Cannabis

To let life evaporate cause we can't handle it

The damages of reality, we can't take it

So we use music to escape it

Escape reality
