Bullet holes in concrete

Let's us know something is happening (something is happening)

Overthrow oppression and deception in a world defined by apathy

Maybe our sons will grow to be better men than we (than we)

Higher authorities make it hard to fully see (so they can see)

Desperation screams at the scene of desperate need

I've got a heck of a lot to say, this wasn't your choice to make

Please say the fight's all over for us

And we should be ashamed for tearing down our families

Good name

'Cause if home is where the heart belongs, then we're dead wrong

God are you really there? God are you really there?

Safe behind Your clouds

Too far away to reach, too far away to reach

Your hand to the women crying out

Bullet holes in concrete

Let's us know something is happening (something is happening)

Overthrow oppression and deception in a world defined by apathy

So stick to what you know, look at the facts without friction

My prediction is that you'll die within minutes from this

So stick to what you know, look at the facts without friction

My prediction is that you'll die within minutes from this

So let the good Lord be our judge

Not the ones we've hated to love, not the ones we've hated

So let a strong hand be your guide
Because now is the time
And it's vital that you decide

(So if You) really have all the answers
(Can You) help us understand, teach us love again?
Can You teach us love again?
