Shouldn't we known it couldn't last
Fading memories, the moment came and passed
Now it's gone and here we are
In different worlds

I couldn't say who is to blame
We could try again but things won't be the same
I am caught and lost between
Different worlds

I wouldn't say that we were blind
Sometimes I think about the trace we left behind
Now it's gone and here we are
In different worlds

I couldn't say who is to blame
We could try again but things won't be the same
I am caught and lost between
Different worlds

When all go wrong
And all is gone
We carry on
