It's falling apart
Ran in circles, back at the start
Can't ignore this feeling within Walls are closing in When every single step that i take could produce my biggest mistake
Everything could bend, it could break
That's a risk I'll take

Cause I don't wanna be here alone
Hiding my fear
Everything's gone, nothing is clear
Lost in confusion, we failed once again
All washed away, like teardrops in the rain

Lost in between
Broken dreams, I'm fleeing the scene
Seems that I am still incomplete
Where's the missing piece?
The more I climb the harder I fall
Might be left with nothing at all
Will the morning after the rain
Wash away the pain?

Cause I don't wanna be here alone
Hiding my fear
Everything's gone, nothing is clear
Lost in confusion, we failed once again
All washed away

But I don't wanna hide anymore
It's time to let go
Facing defeat, I'm taking the blow
Despite our intentions we failed once again
All washed away, like teardrops in the rain

Is anybody there?
Can anybody hear me?
