A honeysuckle breeze, a perfect sunrise
The weatherman says there ain't a cloud in sight
80 degrees, is gonna be the high
It's just too good of a day to say goodbye

I wish it would just go ahead and rain
I wish the blue skies would turn grey
Let the sun fall from the sky, as you walk away
I wish it would snow 10 feet deep, to represent this memory
I might could take your leavin' me on a darker day
But the weather don't match the storm I feel inside
It's just too good of a day to say goodbye

If you said I knew, girl you'd be right
The end of us has become a fact of life
But what I don't know, is baby why
You couldn't pick a worse day to say goodbye

I wish it would just go ahead and rain
I wish the blue skies would turn grey
Let the sun fall from the sky as you walk away
I wish it would snow 10 feet deep, to represent this
memory
I might could take your leavin' me on a darker day
But the weather don't match the storm I feel inside
It's just too good of a day to say goodbye

The weatherman says, there ain't a cloud in sight
It's just too good of a day to say goodbye
