All I need is some sunshine
all I need...
all I need...

The siren called beyond the treeline with another one for the caves and in the tarn beyond those birches there's a spirit that I crave

And from the island people watched you you set that viking shiver place we reached the moon falls, I see cauldron and found the spirit that I crave

all I need...
all I need is some sunshine
all I need...

You've fallen barefoot past the treeline beaten, boned-eyed, butchered, swayed a thousand whitefish floating belly up in the spirit that I crave

And we threw ourselves right into it where lay the bodies had been claimed we dove a third out for the fifth banned to the spirit that I crave

All I need is some sunshine
all I need...
all I need is some sunshine
all I need...

I found empathy from madness deliverance from malaise my heart is is filled with gladness at the only spirit that I crave

all I need.

all I need is some sunshine
all I need...

But I want good a thing want a good thing...
