"Sunshine Is Dangerous"

Sunshine, sugar, love and happiness
Love turned up at her doorstep
Box of candy in his hand
Said let's go walking in the sunlight
She said "Sorry, I just can't"
She said "Sunshine is dangerous
Sugar can be poison
And love, well that's obvious
Beware of too much happiness"
Sunshine, sugar, love and happiness
She said "Love, please be patient
Life's not all sweetness and light
With every dawn comes devastation
For all us creatures of the night"
That's why I say "Sunshine is dangerous
Sugar can be poison
And love, well that's obvious
Beware of too much happiness"
It's so easy to say
Just give your heart away
But I already gave
And what's left I'm saving for a rainy day
Now the sky is partly cloudy
Hazy shadows brush the sand
And you can hear them softly singing
As they go walking hand in hand
They go "Sunshine is dangerous
Sugar can be poison
And love, well that's obvious
Beware of too much happiness"
Life is good, knock on wood
