Brother are you hearing me?
I notice youâ€™ve been silent for some time
The days are getting darker now
The anchor tied around your leg is down What good will staring do and what are you hoping to see?
Youâ€™re not afraid to die but fear not to live fills your mind

All this time away
Away from the light
Is leading this pursuit of happiness

So donâ€™t be afraid to fall
Or you'll never fall at all
No you'll never fall at all
And donâ€™t find a reason not to weep
Or youâ€™ll never find your sleep
No youâ€™ll never find your sleep

I hear you breathing deeply now
I watch you try and tunnel to escape
The earth is tumbling down on you
But every tear that fell is washing you through
