I don't feel like I'm at home, in the morning all alone
Tryin' hard to do the things I know I should
When the night closes in and the loneliness begins
I believe you'd be here if you could

There's a trail back to your heart
And you'll know that from the start
We have been together long enough to see
All the hard times take there toll
As they try to rob my soul
Of the precious gift of love, you give to me

There's a song in the breeze
Hear it singin' thru the trees
As it blows along you will know the tune
Time can heal or so I've been told
If you believe it, you'll grow old
All the time we need together is coming soon

We can't relie on the things we know
Til there's time enough to show
Where the things that we believe in, all begin
I can't see to well thru tears
Or the darkness of my fears
So I'm reaching out to find a helpin' hand

Chorus
