The shit has hit the fan but I still do the best I can Squares can roll and circles crack with time

Snap to attention like the queen deception, you vet
I need a coma, try and you try and you try to forget

Somewhere, somehow, you must have known you'd be evil
You don't care, you're still in love

But maybe if I punch you in the face you'll know this is real
But this is not the time or the place, could care less how you feel

Your sex is cylinder, lucky for me it's the same with her Those chromosomes were stoned if not asleep

Snap to attention like the queen deception, you vet
I need a coma, try and you try and you try to forget

Somewhere, somehow, you must have known you'd be
evil
You don't care, you're still in love

But maybe if I punch you in the face you'll know this is
But this is not the time or the place, could care less how
you feel
Could care less how this feels
