I, I can feel the Spirit when it moves down in my soul
As it comes to make me whole
I said I, I can feel the power as it washes over me
As it comes to set me free

Said I, I glow, nothing can erase the healing
Nothing can replace the feeling
Said I, I know there's a real move deep inside
And it's too divine to hide, say

If you open up your heart, open your mind
If you give it all away, what you will find
Throw your hands in the air and close your eyes
And you can never get enough

Of the love and the power you'll receive
When you fall down and you hit your knees
So amazing, what your eyes will see?
If you're ready when the Spirit moves

I, I can feel the Spirit
When we bow our heads in prayer
Let the Lord just take us there

And I know, ain't nothin' quite the same
As the fire that's in the place
When we call upon His name, I'm telling you

(Can't run and you can't hide)
No need to try at all
(It'll bring a change inside)
When the anointing falls

(Don't need no other high)
Can't get no higher, I know
(Don't let it pass you by)
Let the Lord take control

If you open up your heart, open your mind
If you give it all away, what you will find?
Throw your hands in the air and close your eyes
And you can never get enough

Of the love and the power you'll receive
When you fall down and you hit your knees
So amazing, what your eyes will see
If you're ready when the Spirit moves

If you open up your heart, open your mind
If you give it all away, what you will find
Throw your hands in the air and close your eyes
And you can never get enough

Of the love and the power you'll receive
When you fall down and you hit your knees
So amazing, what your eyes will see
If you're ready when the Spirit moves

Ooh and when the Spirit falls, hear Him call
You know you should answer, go ahead and let go
Let God take control of your soul
Know there's nothing better when the Spirit falls, let go
Let God just take control

You know you should answer 'cause you
(You can't run and you can't hide)
No need to try at all
(It'll bring a change inside)
When the anointing falls

(Don't need no other high)
Can't get no higher, I know
(Don't let it pass you by)
Let the Lord take control

If you open up your heart, open your mind
If you give it all away, what you will find
Throw your hands in the air and close your eyes
And you can never get enough

Of the love and the power you'll receive
When you fall down and you hit your knees
So amazing, what your eyes will see
If you're ready when the Spirit moves

If you open up your heart, open your mind
If you give it all away, what you will find?
Throw your hands in the air and close your eyes
And you can never get enough

Of the love and the power you'll receive
When you fall down and you hit your knees
So amazing, what your eyes will see

If you're ready when the Spirit moves

If you open up your heart, open your mind
If you give it all away, what you will find
Throw your hands in the air and close your eyes
And you can never get enough

Of the love and the power you'll receive
When you fall down and you hit your knees
So amazing, what your eyes will see
If you're ready when the Spirit moves
