Forty days and forty nights
When walls of sand left no one alive

The winter buried and covered their sins
Before the sunlight could bring back life

The winter buries and covers their sins
Before the sunlight brings life

Trials, trials of fire
Held under the blood red sun
Trials, trials of fire
The undead serve the devil's son

As the desert sun goes down
A demon called upon will now arise

The minions praise and raise the crown
Words from flesh will terrorize

The minions praise and raise the crown
Words from flesh will terrorize

Trials, trials of fire
Held under the blood red sun
Trials, trials of fire
The undead serve the devil's son

Trials, trials of fire

Trials, trials of fire
