Days are feeling shorter, nights are very long
Thoughts are in my mind, playing like a song
Memories of the past iâ€™m trying to hold
Those that were made of silver and gold

I stare at the sky, wishing on a star
Making true a dream, healing wounded scars
Finally the day has come to set me free
But blinded by a myth, the end was not foreseen

CHORUS

If i could only, reach and turn back time
To feel my soul reborn and live out life
If i could only, reach and turn back time
To the day i had thought, the world was mine

It really doesnâ€™t matter if i die alone or not Solitude and darkness was all i ever got
Now that my life has become what it is
A certain time and place my soul will always miss

CHORUS

If i could only, reach and turn back time
To feel my soul reborn and live out life
If i could only, reach and turn back time
To the day i had thought, the world was mine
