"Halfway Home"

An awakening of self, wrapped up and ready to go.
Just wanna dance with you but I won't let it show.
Do you remember how we were? Late nights on the trampoline.
Just wanna dance with you, this time it's plain to see.

Stay awake to watch you sleep.
I'm young but I don't feel well.
I'm not in love with you but I won't let you tell.
If you could list your favorite things.
Fast food and magazines.
I'm not in love with you, this time it's plain to see.

Well I'm saving up my time, for use on someone else.
Not much left here anyway... I blame that on myself.
But I wouldn't change a thing, I'm better off alone.
When you wake up here tomorrow, I'll be half way home.
