many aeons ago
he was banished ...with shame he slept so long that he forgot ...his name now time has come for the retribution and now he's back he lives again
so many years
spent in the dark ...nowhere
so many years
dreamin' of ...sweet vengeance
and now he's back he lives again
he's back for you
set up some defense if you can and start to pray if you trust any god don't try to talk or to flee he will find you everywhere now he's back he lives only for bringing destruction now he's back you don't know that he's looking for you
so many times
he longed for ...this day
so many times
he foretasted ...your cries
and now he's back he lives again
set up some defense if you can
