All my hopes and dreams came true today
My life won't be the same
You opened up my eyes and let the healin' begin
You brought me hope within

You took away the chains
That once held me down
Now I can hear You say

Come home, come home
You're callin' me into Your arms
I've been gone for so long
I can hear You callin' out my name

I can't believe how much You sacrificed
You chose death to give me life
I won't cry for myself anymore, I've found what I've been lookin' for
And You were with me all this time

You took away the chains
That once held me down
Now I can hear You say

Come home, come home
You're callin' me into Your arms
I've been gone for so long
I can hear You callin' out my name, come home

You've been watchin' me for so long
I can hear You callin' out my name

Come home, come home
You're callin' me into Your arms
I've been gone for so long
I can hear You callin' out my name

Come home
You're callin' out, callin' out my name
For so long I've been gone
Come home, come home
You're callin' me into Your arms
