Walking on my footsteps
I can hear no sound
I can close my eyes now no regrets around

Riding on my footsteps past is at my shoulders in this place so lonely I can live the moment as I've never done before

In the last and future I believe no more
there is only ice here nothing grows so long it seems the end of the land as I used to know it seems the end of earth the begin of space and I want it all

Tomorrow... it doesn't really exist in the North Pole.
